

Term 3 Updates.

Term 3 can often be a difficult term back. The January blues, dark mornings and evenings, not to mention the inevitability of this years exams coming ever closer. Students (and staff) can be at a low ebb post Christmas, so being able to be in school and attempting to maintain an upbeat presence is a real privilege.

I was personally encouraged this year at being able to attend the Diocese school leaders conference in Somerset. I happened to be sat near the Wessex Learning Trust CEO, and had some very encouraging conversations about the development of the faith ethos of the trust. I had the opportunity to hear the new Bishop of Bath and Wells speak about his passion for education. It was a great encouragement to spend some time with chaplains whom I knew and met some new ones and hear about their work across the area. I even had my picture in the newsletter!

This term ahead will involve lots of planning for angling trips, easter assemblies and CU easter events as we lead up to the celebration of Jesus' death and his glorious resurrection. Please pray as I manage this workload with my other role also becoming very busy at present.
